

ANESTHESIOLOGIE

Dear colleague

We kindly invite you to the following postgraduate evening:
“Recent evidence in bleeding management”

When: Wednesday 13/11/2019 18h30-20h00
Food and drinks will be served at 18h00.

Location: UZ Leuven campus Gasthuisberg, auditorium administratief gebouw, grey arrow, level I,
Herestraat 49, 3000 Leuven

Programme:

18h30-19h00: Hemoglobin threshold for transfusion: Are we going too low?

Prof. Dr. Yasser Sakr

Professor of Anesthesiology

Oberarzt/Consultant, Dept. of Anesth. and Intensive Care, Uniklinikum Jena, Friedrich-Schiller-
University of Jena, Germany

19h00-19h30: Fibrinogen in perioperative bleeding management: What’s the evidence?

Prof. Dr. Sander Spanjersberg

Intensivist/cardiotoracic-anesthesiologist

Department of Anesthesiology and Intensive Care, ISALA hospital, Zwolle, The Netherlands

19h30-20h00: The revival of aprotinin

Prof. Dr. Steffen Rex

Head of Clinic, Department of Anesthesiology, University Hospitals Leuven

Associate Professor, Department of Cardiovascular Sciences, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven

This postgraduate evening was established in cooperation with the following sponsor:

Accreditation for this lecture has been requested.

May we kindly ask you to confirm your attendance before Friday November 8 through https://www.supersaas.be/schedule/Anesthesie_GHB/13-11-2019.