

Anaesthesiologist – Bülach – Zwitserland

Submitted on: 09/03/2019, Reference number: 2019033

End date: 09/06/2019

Location:

Bülach is a historic village in the Zurich region and is located near the airport of Zurich. About 20,000 people live in Bülach. Because of the rich history of this village many churches and buildings can be visited. Such as the Saint Laurentius church and Pfarrhaus. There are also many restaurants and cafes.

The hospital is the largest employer of this village and provides care for a population of 180,000 people. Furthermore, this hospital has 200 beds. The Anaesthesiology department has a multidisciplinary pain clinic and rescue service. Patients are treated here pre-, intra- and postoperatively with both acute and chronic pain.

Job Description:

On behalf of this hospital, we are looking for an anaesthesiologist for a full-time, permanent position.

You will play a leading role as head of the pain clinic. Moreover, you must improve the services provided where necessary. You will see patients with both acute and chronic pain complaints. Furthermore, you will also offer professional support to colleagues concerning palliative medicine. Lastly, you will work together with different specialisms.

For this position you need to have experience with palliative care and with a broad spectrum of therapeutic pain interventions. Candidates with a subspecialty in psychosomatic medicine are preferred. You also need to possess excellent leadership, communication and organizational skills.

The employer offers attractive employment conditions.
