End date: 20/07/2019

Location:

Middlesbrough is an industrial city in North East England along the North Sea coast on the Tees River in North Yorkshire. Approximately 142,000 people live in Middlesbrough. Middlesbrough is close to the North Yorkshire Moors. The city has highly acclaimed schools and is easily accessible by a motorway network (A1M) and by train. The Lake District is less than 2 hours away and Leeds Bradford and Newcastle International Airport can be reached at a distance of one hour.

This academic hospital in Middlesbrough is an important trauma centre and offers all its specialties in one location that is unique to a hospital of this size. The hospital has 1,024 beds, a 24-hour acute admission unit and an emergency department that is the major trauma centre for the surrounding region. This hospital also has its own helipad and a modern, central operation ward with 20 well-equipped operating theatres and an intensive care unit with 16 beds.

The Anaesthesiology Department consists out of 80 anaesthetists from various subspecialties and about 30-40 registrars provide support. Furthermore, the hospital has a total of 39 operating suites to its disposal.

Job Description:

On behalf of a hospital in the United Kingdom, we are currently looking for an anaesthetist for a full-time position for a minimum of one year.

Aside from the regular tasks, you will supervise registrars and contribute to the education of medical students, interns and registrars. Interest in conducting research or contributing to existing research is encouraged by the department. The possibility of taking an administrative or management roll within the department or hospital exists. Lastly there is an on-call roster (1:20) in which you will partake.

This vacancy aims for an experienced anaesthetist; this is why a minimum of 7 years work experience is required. Furthermore, the successful candidate must possess medical student, intern and registrar teaching experience. Also, possessing excellent leadership, organisational and research skills is of utmost importance. Lastly, you need to be in the possession of a valid driver's license.

The employer offers attractive employment conditions. The salary will be between 76.000 and 103.000 British pounds depending on your experience.
