

Anaesthesiologist – Muri – Switzerland

Submitted on: 18/08/2019, Reference number: 2019179

End date: 18/11/2019

Location:

The Freiamt region connects Mittelland with central Switzerland. The village of Muri, with approximately 7500 inhabitants, is located in the canton Aargau, close to Zurich (one and a half hour drive) and Luzern. The name of the canton originates from the beautiful river Aare. The canton is characterized by mediaeval centres, related museums and numerous castles. In addition, there are famous thermal baths scattered through the canton. For years, the canton has a stable and strong economy due to the flourishing agriculture. Due to the relatively flat, but mildly hilly landscape, there is an infinite amount of beautiful hiking routes in the area.

The hospital offers care to an area of 100 000 inhabitants. There are 4 operating theatres and an intensive care unit. Annually, care is given to around 8000 inpatients and 40 000 outpatients. The department of Anaesthesiology conducts 5000 surgeries annually within the specialties of general surgery, orthopaedics, traumatology, ENT, ophthalmology, urology, gynaecology and obstetrics. The area of activity also includes the care of surgical patients of the interdisciplinary intensive care unit.

Job Description:

On behalf of the above-mentioned hospital, we are looking for a motivated anaesthesiologist for a part-time (0.6 FTE) position.

The hospital is looking for a dedicated anaesthesiologist with several years of experience as a senior consultant. The team prefers a flexible and responsible personality with positive charisma who would like to work independently in a well-rehearsed team. You are expected to participate in the night and weekend services.

You can expect a versatile and independent workspace in a modern and future-oriented hospital with a wide range of services. There is a good interdisciplinary cooperation within and across the various areas and a strong team-spirit throughout the hospital.

Attractive employment conditions are offered. Good command of the German and English language is required to register and practice in Switzerland. Although C1 command is preferred in your clinical role, a B2-level suffices for registration. MMedical can help you select the right language training centre and will help you with the federal and cantonal professional registration.
